

Translation as Reframing

June 27-28, 2019

University of the Azores
(Ponta Delgada, S. Miguel)

June 27

09:00-09:30	Registration
09:30-10:50	Anf. VIII	Opening session
		MARGARIDA VALE DE GATO The translator as an ex-isle: literary translation, collaborative pedagogy, and creative writing (ULICES, Univ. of Lisbon) Chair: Joana Moura
10:50-11:20		Coffee break
	Anf. VIII	Sala de Audiovisuais
11:20-12:40	Translation as rewriting: learning from translators' archives Chair: Rubia Nara de Souza	Media reframings Chair: Alexa Alfer
	Criação circular: reflexões sobre o papel da autotradução e da tradução colaborativa no processo criativo OLGA ANOKHINA (CNRS/ITEM) "Swiftly to frame the word": Joyce in France, Joyce in French PATRICK HERANT (Univ. Paris 8) Ungaretti: traduzir e criar EMILIO SCIARRINO (Univ. of Amiens)	Translating the North-South frame: a spatial-imagological case study LUC VAN DOORSLAER (Univ. of Tartu) One text, two readings: cases of reframing of the Popes' words in the Portuguese press MÁRCIA DIAS SOUSA (CECC, Catholic Univ. of Portugal) The analysis of ideology in translating Syrian conflict news: with reference to BBC news discourse KAIS A. KADHIM (Univ. Technology Petronas)
12:40-14:00		Lunch
14:00-15:20	Rewriting frames Chair: Francisco C. Marques	Poetic reframings Chair: Miguel-Pedro Quadrio
	O tradutor como patriota ou a influência da geografia de destino LEONOR SAMPAIO DA SILVA (Univ. of the Azores)	Auto-tradução e versões do tradutor, percurso do poema "Chanson" de Giuseppe Ungaretti por ele mesmo e Jean Lescure RUBIA NARA DE SOUZA (Univ. Antwerp)
	Il bugiardo: biografia de uma comédia, de Juan Ruiz de Alarcón a Carlo Goldoni ANA FERREIRA DA SILVA (Univ. of Lisbon)	A tradução como pacto lúdico – o caso de Ana Hatherly SERENA CACCHIOLI (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon)
	Um entremez espanhol em Portugal ARIADNE NUNES (IELT, Nova Univ. of Lisbon)	Ecolalia: traduzir a obra poética de Luís Quintais GAIA BERTONERI (Univ. of Turin)
15:20-15:30		Pause
15:30-16:30	Reframing culture(s) Chair: Vanessa Montesi	Reframing the frame Chair: Marisa Mourinha
	Origin troubles: translational aesthetics in two literary mappings of Hong Kong PENNY YEUNG (Rutgers Univ.)	Blurred lines – transnationality, originality and authorship in the Trotzkopf series THERESIA FELDMANN (Univ. KU Leuven)
	Reframing Bridget Jones's fantasy world: the transfer of sexuality and gender in a chick flick LISI LIANG (Univ. of Leicester)	Who framed Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde? Translation as a reframing of a frame of a frame ALEXANDRA LOPES (CECC, Catholic Univ. of Portugal)
16:30-17:00		Coffee break

17:00-18:00	Reframing censorship Chair: Hélder Lopes Mulheres, morte e moral: dois filmes censurados no Estado Novo dos anos 50 KATRIN PIEPER (Univ. of Coimbra) Framing the return of right-wing populism in Spain. A multilingual analysis of the narratives across European media systems ELISA ALONSO, ISABEL BRIALES, and GUSTAVO FILSINGER (Univ. Pablo de Olavide de Sevilla)	Gendering the frame Chair: Marta Pacheco Pinto Reframing the female voice. The case of the Polish translation of Annie Vivanti's Circe ANITA KŁOS (Maria Curie Skłodowska Univ.) Preserving the ambiguity of gender in a language with grammatical gender NILUFER NATALIA DENISSOVA (Anadolu Univ.)
-------------	--	---

June 28

	Anf. VIII	Sala de Audiovisuais
09:00-10:00	Reframing genres Chair: Leonor Sampaio da Silva Reframing the German Krimi in Portugal: the example of Gil Ribeiro's Lost in Fuseta JOANA MOURA (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon/ Catholic Univ. of Portugal) Reframing the French contemporary novel for the Portuguese reader DOMINIQUE FARIA (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon/ Univ. of the Azores)	Reframing the Portuguese canon Chair: Ariadne Nunes Todo o mundo no homem-ilha: performance da leitura e da tradução na colectânea O Bebedor Nocturno, de Herberto Helder FRANCISCO C. MARQUES (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon) Lobo Antunes em inglês: a propósito de duas traduções de Os Cus de Judas MARISA MOURINHA (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon)
10:00-10:30	Coffee break
10:30-11:50	Translating/reframing transnational/Nigerian women writers in Italy Chair: Serena Caccioli Transcultural identities, cultural bodies and feminism in Chimamanda Adichie's Americanah and We Should All Be Feminists ELEONORA FEDERICI (Univ. of Naples) "What is an Afro-Scot anyway?": reframing Jackie Kay's fluid identities in translation EMILIO AMIDEO (Univ. of Naples) Reframing gendered narrations. The Italian reception of African translated feminine bodies LUISA MARINO (Univ. of Naples)	Paratextual reframing Chair: Dominique Faria Transferring paratext embedded in the source country through transcreation ALLIRA HANCZAKOWSKI (Univ. La Trobe) Stories of the "margin": genre confusion and the Greek paratext of Nicholas Gage's Eleni KELLY PASMATZI (Univ. Sheffield, CITY College) Who framed Yoritomo Tashi? MARTA PACHECO PINTO (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon)
11:50-12:00	Pause
12:00-13:00	Reframing the stage Chair: Alexandra Lopes Theatre translation under the Portuguese dictatorial regime: reframing Tennessee Williams for the Portuguese stage HÉLDER LOPES (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon) "Lançar de novo o espetáculo": da tradução na crítica de teatro de Eduardo Scarlatti MIGUEL-PEDRO QUADRID (CECC, Catholic Univ. of Portugal)	Reframing translation strategies Chair: Joana Moura Unlocking the secret of "Locksley Hall" RAJA LAHIANI (United Arab Emirates Univ.) Virginia Woolf's Orlando in 21st-century Spain ITZIAR HERNÁNDEZ RODILLA (Univ. Complutense de Madrid)
13:00-14:15	Lunch

14:15-15:15	Reframing theories Chair: Marta Pacheco Pinto Reframing translational hermeneutics ALEXA ALFER (Univ. of Westminster) Reframing translation theories: the imaginaries of translation RICCARDO RAIMONDO (Univ. of Montréal) and THOMAS VUONG (Univ. Paris 13 – USPC)	Reframing Brazil Chair: Márcia Dias Sousa Brazilian literature reframed in Polish People's Republic (1945-1989) GABRIEL BOROWSKI (Jagiellonian Univ. in Cracow) Reframing Curt Meyer-Clason's birth as a translator ORLANDO GROSSEGESSE (Univ. of Minho)
15:15-15:25	Pause
15:25-16:25	Reframing ideology Chair: Francisco C. Marques The impact of the translator's ideology on sacred text translation. The Holy Quran as a case study ADIL LACHGAR (Univ. of Ibn Zohr) Ideological translation: the case of Pepetela TOM STENNELL (Univ. of Oxford)	Reframing politics Chair: Luc van Doorslaer Reframing practices of publishers before and after 1989 in the Canadian – Hungarian translation flow FRUZSINA KOVÁCS (PPCU Hungary) Translators' ethics in non-censored translations of press articles from English into Polish in post-communist Poland EDYTA ŹRAŁKA (Univ. Silesia, Katowice)
16:25-16:45	Coffee break
16:45-17:45	Reframing memory/ies Chair: Theresia Feldmann Connecting translation and cultural memory: translation as a tool of "productive remembering" ŞULE DEMIRKOL ERTÜRK (Univ. Boğaziçi) Self-translation as reframing: postcolonial devices in Catalan literature FRANCESC GALERA (Univ. Autònoma de Barcelona)	Semiotic reframings Chair: Penny Yeung Translation as reframing, reframing translation: Chouinard's The Garden of Earthly Delights at the Centro Cultural de Belém VANESSA MONTESI (CEC, Univ. of Lisbon) Transferring Eugene Onegin by Pushkin (1830s) and by Tchaikovsky (1879) to its terpsichorean territory: Onegin by Cranko (1965) ANNA PONOMAREVA (Imperial College London)
17:45-18:00	Pause
18:00-19:00	Anf. VIII EDWIN GENTZLER Women and rewriting the classics (Univ. of Massachusetts Amherst) Chair: Dominique Faria	Closing session

20:00 Dinner (Vip Executive Restaurante)